

Infection Prevention Units (IPUs) Overview

All currently certified (CIC® & LTC-CIP) professionals in infection prevention and control are eligible for recertification during the year that their certification is due to expire. Recertification is required every five years to maintain the CIC® and LTC-CIP designations. Certificants who choose to recertify using continuing education (IPUs) must submit a professional portfolio and can access and enter IPUs in their professional portfolio once they are certified.
